ATAS International participates in ice cream wars

ATAS International Inc. of Upper Macungie Township participated in the Ice Cream Wars event at Da Vinci Science Center this month. Teams worked months in advance to create themes, decorate their stations and encourage employees and fans to visit the exhibits and vote on their favorite ones. Air Products supplies the liquid nitrogen for the event which acts as a flash-freezing agent that evaporates when mixed with flavorful ingredients and creates a creamy ice cream ready to eat in about five minutes. Pictured are some members of the ATAS team, left to right: Front row, Patrick Reinhart, Anne Hicks and Dylan Repsher; middle row are R.C. Antal, Allison Guzley and Kevin Klersy; back row are Joe Woodland, Mike Williams and Andrew Webber.

Lehigh Valley Restaurant Group helps two charities

Lehigh Valley Restaurant Group, a Red Robin franchisee, hosted its 20th annual Muscular Dystrophy Association holiday breakfast at its Tilghman Square location Dec. 16. The event is a collaboration between LVRG and the MDA's Greater Lehigh Valley chapter, treating individuals and families affected by muscular dystrophy and other muscle-debilitating diseases to a special holiday breakfast and visit from Santa and Mrs. Claus. LVRG also partnered with the Colonial Regional Police Department of Northampton County on the same day to host its 13th annual Shop with Cops event, supporting local kids in need of a special Christmas memory. The police department treats each child to a $400 shopping trip to buy Christmas gifts for family members. The group then heads to Red Robin at Northampton Crossings in Lower Nazareth Township for a free lunch. The photos are from the holiday breakfast (left) and Shop with Cops event.
